A SCHOLARSHIP NOW

Something New In the School of Ceramics.

THE BRICK ASSOCIATION DID IT

The Organization Contributes $250 For the Education of a Student The Committee Will Select, and the University Will Pay $100.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of trustees of the Ohio State university was held in Columbus yesterday, and among other business was the founding of a scholarship in ceramics by the National Association of Brick Manufacturers.

A committee representing the association called upon the board and presented a proposition. The committee was appointed at the last convention of the association held at Buffalo, and was composed of the following gentlemen: W. D. Richardson, Shawnee, O.; D. V. Purington, Chicago, Ill.; Charles A. Bloomfield, New York; Hon. Anthony Ittner, St. Louis; Edwin Orton, Jr., Columbus, and T. A. Randall, secretary of the association, of Indianapolis, Ind. The various members of the committee made addresses setting forth the purpose of the scholarship and the advantages it would be to the university as well as to the association. The proposition is self-explanatory and is as follows:

"That the National Association of Brick Manufacturers shall contribute the sum of $250 for the establishment of a scholarship in the department of ceramics in the State University of Ohio for one year. The committee of the association to whom this matter has been referred propose to place this sum in the hands of the trustees of the university under the following conditions, viz.:

"First—That $200 of this sum shall be paid to the student selected by the National Brick Makers' association as the recipient of this scholarship for his expenses, to be paid said student in two equal installments.

"Second—That the University of Ohio shall contribute $100, which, with the $250 of the fund contributed by the association, shall constitute a fund for (1) the official expenses of the student (dues, fees, laboratory expenses, etc.); (2) general expenses for special material and apparatus necessary to conduct experiments.

"Third—That one-half of the disposition of the time of this student shall be at the disposition of the director of the department of ceramics, the other half shall be at the disposition of the student to pursue any course of instruction in the university curriculum for which he may be fitted to enter."

After full consideration of the matter, the board accepted the proposition, and adopted a resolution of thanks.

CARRYING IRON.

The Virginia Brought the First of a Large Consignment.

Owing to the recent heavy rains a 15-foot stage of water is expected. At present the marks show 8 feet 10 inches, and still rising.

There is a lot of freight at the wharf, waiting for south bound packets.

Passed down, Bedford, tonight; up, Virginia.

The Virginia had on board a large consignment of pig iron, to be delivered to a Pittsburgh firm. The cargo would make about two car loads. This is the first of a large consignment to be handled, and it has been a long time since the products of the southern earth have come this way.

WEARS A FEW MARKS

As the Result of a Fierce Fight in a Pottery.

There was a fight at the East Liverpool pottery, yesterday, that involved Fred Olnhausen, Nick Zoellars and his brother, William. It seems there was some trouble about the carrying of ware to the packing room. It was not to the liking of Olnhausen, and there was war with young Zoellars about the room. Nick didn't like the idea of his brother being treated in this manner, so he and Olnhausen had a round. Nick was the winner, but his brother is now carrying around several reminders of the affray.

COUNCILMANIC CAUCUS.

Three Members Are Mentioned as Candidates.

This evening the members of the new council will caucus at the fire station, and choose the president for the coming year. There is a great deal of speculation as to who the lucky man will be, but it is thought the choice lays among Peach, of the Third, Stewart, of the Second, and Marshall, of the First. Mr. Ashbaugh is out of the city and will not be present, but it is understood his wishes in the matter are known. Business of the coming year will also be discussed, and plans for the work to be performed will be made.

STRUCK IT RICH.

George Cox Sold His Farm After He Had Found Oil.

George Cox, formerly employed in one of the potteries, bought a farm in Monroe county some time ago. He and his family moved there soon afterward. The oil excitement struck that section not long since, and Mr. Cox drilled a well. He was successful in his undertaking. Other wells were put down and the farm became a rich one. It was not long until practical oil men saw what kind of a field it was. An offer was made the owner, which was rejected. It was not long afterward until another offer was made that was accepted. Last Wednesday the company took charge of the place, after paying $18,000 for the land. It is understood Mr. Cox will return to this place and enter into business.

IMPROVING THE CITY.

No Reply From the Street Railway Company.

Clerk Hanley is patiently waiting for a reply from the street railway company. In accordance with the law he notified the company last February that East Liverpool expected the officials to notify him of the number of cars then in operation. The answer should have been filed within 30 days, but to the present the clerk has received no word from Cleveland. There is a suspicion about city hall that Al Johnson and his associates still believe the city fathers are like that town in the west.

THOUGHT HE WAS A BOXER

And a Sporting Man Is Now Hunting Officer Moore.

The city officials are enjoying a good joke at the expense of Officer Moore. One of the officers told a well known sporting man that Moore was a scientific boxer. The sporting man is something of a boxer himself, and at once went after Moore with a challenge to spar him a limited number of rounds. The officer of course refused, and the sporting man has since been worrying him every day. The officer would make two of the sporting man, but is not desirous of engaging in boxing contests.

IT'S NEEDED.

A Resident Wants Poor Pavements Repaired.

"I sincerely hope the new council will make some move toward having the pavements repaired," remarked a business man to a reporter this morning. "On Fifth, Sixth, Washington and Market streets this kind of weather a pedestrian is compelled to pick his way along, or he is liable to step on a loose brick and get covered with mud and water. It is something that sadly needs looking after, and I hope the new council will see their way clear to do it."

MILL STREET SLIDING.

A Part of the Hill Concluded to Move This Morning.

The hillside above Mill street in the West End began sliding again this morning, and the roadway is now blocked with all kinds of debris. Every rain starts the hillside sliding, and it bids fair to equal the Walker slide. There are many houses located along the brow of the hill, and some residents are beginning to become uneasy, although the slides have not yet shaken the foundations of their homes. Commissioner Finley and his force will remove the obstruction as soon as possible.

BEATS THEM ALL.

Traveling Salesmen Sell a Great Many Goods In Liverpool.

Said a well known traveling man last evening: "I have been in a number of towns in Pennsylvania and Ohio during the past month, but Liverpool eclipses them all for trade. I have sold more goods in this town than I have in any three towns the past few days. There is a vast improvement in the trade of the country at large, and I look for all factories to have a prosperous year."

TO MINNEAPOLIS.

Elks Are Talking of a Nice Summer Trip.

The Elks are making arrangements to go to Minneapolis in June. The excursion is not restricted to the Elks solely, but anyone can avail himself of the trip. The rate is a little over one cent a mile. F. B. White, assistant general passenger agent of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, was in town yesterday with a view to securing the business.

Say No.

The town is now being flooded with advertising—gold mine share circulars. A word to the wise is sufficient.

WINDING UP BUSINESS

The Board of Education Dies In One Week.

NO CONTESTS FOR OFFICES

The New Members Will Take the Oath, and Affairs Will Proceed as Before. Some Important Matters to Look After Next Year.

The old board of education will meet for the last time next Friday evening, the new members will take the oath of office, what business is on hand will be wound up, and the new organization will take charge of the public schools.

The retiring members of the board are J. L. Swan, Elmer Stevenson and Mrs. Watson, and after the new members are seated the board will again be without a lady at its meetings. All the members will be men. From present indications there will be no contests for offices. President McGraw stated today that he had not yet decided whether he would be a candidate for re-election, in short that he had not given the matter a great deal of attention. Clerk Norris will be a candidate, and there is no reason to believe that he will not succeed himself. As the trustee officer and the janitors are not chosen until a meeting or two before the schools open in the fall, there will be no stir on that account at present. The new board has a great deal of important business to consider. The contract with Superintendent Sanor will expire next month, and that gentleman will be re-elected, or another chosen to fill the position. The building question will receive some attention, and from present indications it will be a matter for considerable notice. Additional room must be provided, and the matter of adding to some of the buildings already built or erecting small structures for the communities in which they are needed, will doubtless cause some discussion.

SOLD HIS STOCK.

Professor Wolfe Is No Longer Interested In Bradford.

Prof. A. E. Wolfe was in the city this morning. The enamel brick works at Bradford, Pa., are being enlarged and their capacity increased one-half. He has disposed of his interest in the plant, and is on his way west to locate plants in Chicago, St. Louis, El Paso and Mexico. The stock in the companies has been taken and all have established plants. He was this afternoon conferring with J. E. McDonald with a view to locating a fire brick works in the Southside. The company is composed of Pittsburgh capitalists, and they propose to put up a large plant. Offers have been received by them to locate in several Pennsylvania cities, but they first wanted to see what this city would do for them. Professor Wolfe left this afternoon for Pittsburgh, where he will report this evening.

THE ATTORNEY WILL BE PRESENT

When Council Meets For the First Time.

When the new council take hold of the reins of government, one of the first questions they will have to ponder over is that of the sewers emptying into West End park. Attorney W. B. Hill will be present at the first meeting, and will submit a proposition to them as he has determined another year will not pass with the park in the condition it was last season. It is probable an amicable agreement can be reached, but in case it is not, Mr. Hill will put into execution his oft-repeated warning and sue the city for damages.

WILL CELEBRATE.

Grand Army Men and Their Families Will Have a Good Time.

The Grand Army will this evening celebrate the thirty-second anniversary of Lee's surrender, in their hall on Fourth street. Gen. Lyon post will have charge of the celebration. The officers have decided not to give a bean bake as is customary, but a fine musical and literary program has been prepared. The Relief corps and the Sons of Veterans will be the guests of honor.

An Excellent Lecture.

Rev. Dr. McKinley, of Steubenville, lectured on "Calvanism In History" in the First Presbyterian church last evening. The miserable weather had some effect upon the attendance, but those present heard an address of merit. Doctor McKinley is a forcible talker, and his knowledge of the subject made the lecture one of great interest.

Water Works Trustees Organize.

The water works trustees will meet this evening to organize. The new member of the board will be sworn in, and a clerk and superintendent are to be appointed. It is probable the board will stand just as it is, with J. H. Harris, president; J. W. Gipner, clerk and Philip Morley, superintendent.

THE LISBON POTTERY.

The Town Will Not Think of Giving $25,000 Bonus.

Lisbon, April 9.—[Special.]—The stories published not long ago which said that Lisbon was willing and anxious to give $25,000 to any company desiring to locate a pottery in this place had some foundation. It is learned upon authority that the board of trade is in position to offer $5,000 and a site, but beyond that gift have nothing to offer. Local capitalists would gladly become interested.

HEARD NEXT WEDNESDAY.

Squire Manley Has a Pair of Cases on His Docket.

Squire Manley had two suits entered in his court today. J. F. Leonard sues Willis and Fannie Willis for the sum of $52.11. The plaintiff claims the defendants got goods from him and neglected to pay for them.

William Poyser sues the East Liverpool Pottery company to recover $7.50, which he claims is due him as wages. Both cases will be given a hearing next Monday.

Some Changes.

It has been learned from a reliable source that the Robinson-Franklin circus will not visit the city this summer, as was reported some time ago. Neither will the Barnum-Bailey show be here in the early part of the summer, but will arrive about Sept. 14. They have engaged all the available advertising space for three weeks between May 30 and Sept. 30, but, in accordance with the way they do business, did not give any date.

Ordered to Report.

John Godwin and James Webber this morning were ordered to report to the Jackson, Mich., team at Chicago next Thursday. The club goes from there to Milwaukee where they will open the season on the 19th.

Percy Baxter has been ordered to the West Sunbury, Pa., team next Monday.

Only a Rumor.

There was a rumor afloat this morning that the eastbound train was delayed on account of the front truck of the baggage car being derailed by a slide which occurred a short distance below Wellsville. After close investigation, the story was found untrue.

A Dark Spot.

The electric lamp at the corner of East Market street and Lincoln avenue burned out last night, and that section of the city was left in total darkness for several hours. A new lamp was placed in position this afternoon.

Small Slide.

Owing to a small slide on the Pennsylvania tracks at Ensworth this morning, the 9 o'clock train was five minutes late. No damage was done, and the debris was soon cleared away by a gang of laborers.

Brain Fever the Cause.

Nellie, the two-year-old child of George Mount, of Fourth street, died last night. The child had a severe attack of brain fever. It will be buried Sunday in Riverview cemetery.

A Good Day.

Yesterday was another good day at the freight station. The total number of cars handled was 68. There were 43 received, 19 were loaded on the sidings, and 15 in the sheds.

Important Business.

The carpenters' union held their regular meeting last evening, and transacted business of great importance to the craft. Members of the union refused to make it public today.

A Dog Shot.

Officer Whan shot a dog this afternoon. The animal was running wild about the china works, and in order to protect passersby he put an end to its misery.

A Cashier Sick.

R. W. Austin, the cashier of the freight station, is ill at his home in Railroad street.

Will Meet Again.

The trustees of the Christian church will hold another meeting at the residence of C. C. Thompson, next Monday night, to further their new church plans.

Lots of Fish.

Isaac N. Crable and Rev. Fouts had a good day at fishing yesterday. They came home with a string of 16 bass.

QUIT FOR THE SEASON

McKinley Club Will Hold No Summer Meetings.

THE ROOMS WILL BE CLOSED

Sessions Will Be Held at the Call of the President and Trustees Until Winter Comes Again—Furniture to Be Stored. Officers Elected.

At a meeting of the McKinley club held last evening, it was decided to give up the rooms now occupied by the organization and hold no more meetings until winter comes again.

The meeting was well attended, and the club did not waste time in transacting its business. Collector Martin made his final report, showing that much of the money due the organization had been collected. The election of trustees, decided upon for this night at a meeting held some time ago, was conducted and resulted in the election of William Beardmore, A. W. Thomas, G. W. Ashbaugh, Cross Kerr, Marion Martin, W. T. Martin and Squire E. W. Hill. A resolution was adopted which said that as summer was not far away and conditions would soon be such as to make permanent quarters unnecessary, it was deemed advisable to give up the rooms and store away the property of the club until next fall. The trustees were empowered to secure new quarters which are to be occupied when the club deems it advisable, and arrangements were made to settle all accounts in full. The next meeting will be held at the call of the president and trustees. The present officers will continue to hold their positions, and the dues of members are collectable as usual. All delinquents will be dropped from the roll without further ceremony. Squire Hill, president of the club, stated today that this by no means meant disbandment. It was simply a vacation until the time comes when rooms are needed again.

No Damaging Slip.

The rain of the past three days has caused the street car company no trouble, as the dirt at Walker did not come down in sufficient quantities to obstruct the track. This morning the track was covered with mud, but it took the section gang but a few minutes to clear it. Nancy Hanks and the dirt car were out this afternoon hauling stone and doing repair work a short distance this side of the slip.

They Are Recovering.

Mrs. Sarah Kirkham, of Trentvale street, whose arm was amputated some time ago, has entirely recovered. The arm was thoroughly healed in 21 days, which is an unusually good record considering the circumstances surrounding the case.

David Talbott, who has been dangerously ill at his home in May street with potter's asthma is slowly improving, and is now out of danger.

Speaking a Piece.

The small boys seem to enjoy the curfew ordinance, and last night when the town clock struck eight, a crowd of youngsters, at the corner of Fifth and Washington streets, began to shout: "10 o'clock, Curfew shall not ring tonight." A number of them have learned part of the famous poem, and are heard reciting it each evening.

Complained About Motormen.

Complaint is made that some motormen have a playful habit of compelling passengers to pay double fare when they are not convinced that the unlucky individual has dropped his nickel in the slot. In one instance, at least, the next offense of this sort will be reported to the mayor.

Attend a Convention.

The Medical association met last evening, in the office of Dr. G. P. Kirk, and elected Doctors J. E. Toot and R. J. Marshall delegates to the state convention which convenes in Cleveland, May 30, and continues through the 21st and 22nd. Doctors W. R. Clark and G. P. Kirk were chosen alternates.

Only One License.

Lisbon, April 9.—[Special.]—News is the scarest thing about the county seat today. One little mite to interest East Liverpool was found. It was the granting of a marriage license to Porter T. Herbert and Miss Bertha Vale, of East End.

A Big Ball Game

The members of the Young Men's Christian association gymnasium are considering the advisability of holding a baseball game in the Fifth street rink. If the affair materializes the teams will be dressed as negroes and hobos.

Squire Manley Has a Pair of Cases on His Docket.

Squire Manley had two suits entered in his court today. J. F. Leonard sues Willis and Fannie Willis for the sum of $52.11. The plaintiff claims the defendants got goods from him and neglected to pay for them.

William Poyser sues the East Liverpool Pottery company to recover $7.50, which he claims is due him as wages. Both cases will be given a hearing next Monday.

Some Changes.

It has been learned from a reliable source that the Robinson-Franklin circus will not visit the city this summer, as was reported some time ago. Neither will the Barnum-Bailey show be here in the early part of the summer, but will arrive about Sept. 14. They have engaged all the available advertising space for three weeks between May 30 and Sept. 30, but, in accordance with the way they do business, did not give any date.

Ordered to Report.

John Godwin and James Webber this morning were ordered to report to the Jackson, Mich., team at Chicago next Thursday. The club goes from there to Milwaukee where they will open the season on the 19th.

Percy Baxter has been ordered to the West Sunbury, Pa., team next Monday.

Only a Rumor.

There was a rumor afloat this morning that the eastbound train was delayed on account of the front truck of the baggage car being derailed by a slide which occurred a short distance below Wellsville. After close investigation, the story was found untrue.

A Dark Spot.

The electric lamp at the corner of East Market street and Lincoln avenue burned out last night, and that section of the city was left in total darkness for several hours. A new lamp was placed in position this afternoon.

Small Slide.

Owing to a small slide on the Pennsylvania tracks at Emsworth this morning, the 9 o'clock train was five minutes late. No damage was done, and the debris was soon cleared away by a gang of laborers.

Brain Fever the Cause.

Nellie, the two-year-old child of George Mount, of Fourth street, died last night. The child had a severe attack of brain fever. It will be buried Sunday in Riverview cemetery.

A Good Day.

Yesterday was another good day at the freight station. The total number of cars handled was 68. There were 43 received, 10 were loaded on the sidings, and 15 in the sheds.

Important Business.

The carpenters' union held their regular meeting last evening, and transacted business of great importance to the craft. Members of the union refused to make it public today.

A Dog Shot.

Officer Whan shot a dog this afternoon. The animal was running wild about the china works, and in order to protect passersby he put an end to its misery.

A Cashier Sick.

R. W. Austin, the cashier of the freight station, is ill at his home in Railroad street.

Will Meet Again.

The trustees of the Christian church will hold another meeting at the residence of C. C. Thompson, next Monday night, to further their new church plans.

Lots of Fish.

Isaac N. Crable and Rev. Foutts had a good day at fishing yesterday. They came home with a string of 15 bass.

McKinley Club Will Hold No Summer Meetings.

THE ROOMS WILL BE CLOSED

Sessions Will Be Held at the Call of the President and Trustees Until Winter Comes Again—Furniture to Be Stored. Officers Elected.

At a meeting of the McKinley club held last evening, it was decided to give up the rooms now occupied by the organization and hold no more meetings until winter comes again.

The meeting was well attended, and the club did not waste time in transacting its business. Collector Martin made his final report, showing that much of the money due the organization had been collected. The election of trustees, decided upon for this night at a meeting held some time ago, was conducted and resulted in the election of William Beardmore, A. W. Thomas, G. W. Ashbaugh, Cross Kerr, Marion Martin, W. T. Martin and Squire E. W. Hill. A resolution was adopted which said that as summer was not far away and conditions would soon be such as to make permanent quarters unnecessary, it was deemed advisable to give up the rooms and store away the property of the club until next fall. The trustees were empowered to secure new quarters which are to be occupied when the club deems it advisable, and arrangements were made to settle all accounts in full. The next meeting will be held at the call of the president and trustees. The present officers will continue to hold their positions, and the dues of members are collectable as usual. All delinquents will be dropped from the roll without further ceremony. Squire Hill, president of the club, stated today that this by no means meant disbandment. It was simply a vacation until the time comes when rooms are needed again.

No Damaging Slip.

The rain of the past three days has caused the street car company no trouble, as the dirt at Walker did not come down in sufficient quantities to obstruct the track. This morning the track was covered with mud, but it took the section gang but a few minutes to clear it. Nancy Hanks and the dirt car were out this afternoon hauling stone and doing repair work a short distance this side of the slip.

They Are Recovering.

Mrs. Sarah Kirkham, of Trentvale street, whose arm was amputated some time ago, has entirely recovered. The arm was thoroughly healed in 21 days, which is an unusually good record considering the circumstances surrounding the case.

David Talbott, who has been dangerously ill at his home in May street with potter's asthma is slowly improving, and is now out of danger.

Speaking a Piece.

The small boys seem to enjoy the curfew ordinance, and last night when the town clock struck eight, a crowd of youngsters, at the corner of Fifth and Washington streets, began to shout: "10 o'clock, Curfew shall not ring tonight." A number of them have learned part of the famous poem, and are heard reciting it each evening.

Complained About Motormen.

Complaint is made that some motormen have a playful habit of compelling passengers to pay double fare when they are not convinced that the unlucky individual has dropped his nickel in the slot. In one instance, at least, the next offense of this sort will be reported to the mayor.

Attend a Convention.

The Medical association met last evening, in the office of Dr. G. P. Ikert, and elected Doctors J. E. Toot and R. J. Marshall delegates to the state convention which convenes in Cleveland, May 30, and continues through the 21st and 22nd. Doctors W. R. Clark and G. P. Ikert were chosen alternates.

Only One License.

LISBON, April 9.—[Special.]—News is the scarcest thing about the county seat today. One little mite to interest East Liverpool was found. It was the granting of a marriage license to Porter T. Herbert and Miss Bertha Vale, of East End.

A Big Ball Game

The members of the Young Men's Christian association gymnasium are considering the advisability of holding a baseball game in the Fifth street rink. If the affair materializes the teams will be dressed as negroes and hobos.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, APRIL 9

MR. BRYAN fell down at St. Augustine
yesterday. Isn't this the same gentleman who fell down all over the country
last November?

With toll gate raiders, a feud or two
and a senatorial contest on hand, the
average resident of Kentucky need not
lack for excitement.

MR. CLEVELAND's retirement is more complete than was expected. Even the yellow kids of New York journalism
are not interviewing him.

Will the Democrats and Populists
fuse in Columbiana county this year?
That is the question to which Mr. Potts
would just now like an answer.

From now until November those who
can spare the time can enjoy the expressions of brotherly love passing between Mr. Brice and Mr. McLean.

This country has paid almost $500,000
for indignities heaped upon aliens by American mobs. If for no other than economical reasons, the time has come
when lynching should be a thing of the
past.

It is always a good sign when a newspaper is compelled to increase its size as
is the News Review today. It shows that the business men recognize its
worth and influence in the community
in which it is circulated.

It is cheering to know that the sentiment against a restricted immigration
has not died out in the senate, and the friends of America occasionally compel
the senators of the opposition to remember that the movement has not passed
away.

SENATOR SHERMAN suggested to Senor
de Lome that it would be a bad thing
for Spain if Weyler ordered Rivera
shot as a traitor, and Rivera was not
shot. That is one result of this nation's new position toward the Cuban fight for liberty.

SOME of the Washington correspondents seem to think that General Bush-
nell would like to be a United States
senator, but that gentleman's friends
say he will be nominated for governor
by acclamation. Now where is the fight in Ohio?

THE reported action of the senate
finance committee toward the wool
schedule of the Dingley bill will not be received with wild acclaims of joy and gladness by the farmers whose flocks
have been driven from the hills by Democratic legislation and whose incomes have been seriously curtailed in consequence.

If there is a long pull and a strong
pull and a pull altogether there is no
doubting the result in this state next
year, but if there are to be fights and
factions and internal dissension the Republican leaders might just as well understand now that a Democrat will be
the next senator from Ohio, and the six
year hoodoo has only been delayed one
year.

OUT in Kansas City there is a man who believes that it does not pay to toy with a woman's affections. A dozen years ago he courted a young lady and
then married another. Recently he announced his candidacy for the mayoral-
ty of the town, the woman remembered his broken promise and communicated it to her friends. Today some other man is mayor.

A HOPEFUL SIGN.

Signs of prosperity continue to multiply. They are crowding over each other to show the good influence of a Republican administration upon the business of this big country. Not only are more men now employed than at the same time during several years previous,
but the amount of money in circulation
is greater than for the same time last year. The official statement of the treasury department shows that the amount in circulation April 1 was $140,371,231 more than on the same date

a year ago. That is a large amount of money, and every cent of it represents
that much in restored confidence. The people no longer fear the future. They believe their wealth is as safe when
afloat in the channels of trade as when hidden in some old coffee pot, or tied up
in a stocking.

OHIO WOMEN'S LONG WALK.

They Footed It Most the Way From Ra-
venna to Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURG, April 9.—There arrived at Hope mission, on Market street last
evening, three travelers, who found
shelter and sympathy from the kindly persons who are conducting that institution. They represent three generations of one family, a grandmother,
daughter and a grandchild, the latter a
mere toddling infant, while the grandmother is in her 80th year.

The trio seemed to have performed a remarkable journey, as the mother and
her daughter appear to have walked a
great part of the distance between Ra-
venna, O., and this city, taking turns
at carrying the child, who is hearty and
well developed for its age, which is
about a year.

The grandmother, whose name is
Mrs. Mary Ann Jackson, her maiden
names being Stokes, says she was born
in Bedford, Pa., 79 years ago on the 11th of last August. She was married
when very young and has been a widow
65 years. Her husband's name was William Jackson, who was an engineer
and ran a steamboat in and out of
Pittsburg, and also ran the first engine
out of Pittsburg on one of the roads
leading west.

His father's name was Andrew Jackson, but he was not related to the president. The daughter's name is
Mrs. Lily Ann Morris, whose husband,
the old lady said, is located here. They are looking for assistance to go to Clark
county, Ind., where the old lady and
her husband formerly resided.

The old woman, in spite of her advanced years, did not seem to be affected to any appreciable extent by her
hard tramp, and was lively and talka-
tive last evening. Mrs. Morris had little to say. Mrs. Jackson says she has a son living in a small town near Massillon, O.

THE C. & O.'S EARNINGS?

Largest Monthly Receipts in the History of the Road.

CINCINNATI, April 9.—The earnings
of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad
for the month of March were $1,935,- 886, being an increase over the corresponding month of last year of $223,- 186. These are the largest monthly earnings in the history of the road and
show an increase of 2 per cent.

Last December the earnings were
$1,105,000, and the road was then, as it is this year, operated on 64 per cent of its earnings. On this basis the report shows a continued dividend of 11 1/2 per cent for the stockholders after all the fixed charges are met. This increase
in business is due mostly to the new
coal contracts which the company has
made and this traffic will keep up the increase.

AGED COUPLE ABUSED.

Three Masked Men Bounded, Gagged and Robbed Them.

SANDUSKY, O., April 9.—Three
masked men entered the residence of
Mr. and Mrs. James Ford, an aged couple living at Pinkerton, near this city, and after binding and gagging
them attempted at the points of revolvers to make them reveal the hiding
place of their money. They would not do so and after a long search the robbers found $100 in money and other
valuables.

Sometime afterward Mrs. Ford
worked loose from the bindings and released her husband. He notified the neighbors of the outrage and a posse was formed. Mr. and Mrs. Ford are in a critical condition from the rough handling.

ORE PRICES REDUCED.

The Old Range Producers Lower the Rates.

CLEVELAND, April 9.—The iron ore
producers of the old range have finally succeeded in pooling their interests.
The object of the organization, which is called the Bessemer Iron association,
is to conserve the interests of the miners on the Marquette, Menominee, Ver-million and Gogebic ranges. The new schedule varies from $2.40 a ton for Chapin ore to $3.40 for a special low phosphorous ore.

ROOSEVELT IS CONFIRMED.

His and Other Nominations Acted on by the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The senate
in executive session has confirmed the following nominations:

Theodore Roosevelt of New York, to be assistant secretary of the navy;
Thomas W. Cridler of West Virginia, to be third assistant secretary of state; Fenton R. McCreery of Michigan, to be secretary of the United States legation, City of Mexico; Captain A. S. Crowninshield, United States navy, to be chief of the bureau of navigation department of the navy; Brigadier General Frank Wheaton, to be major general in the army; William G. Cassard of Maryland, to be chaplain in the navy; Rev. C. S. Walkley of Ohio, to be post chaplain.

The department of agriculture states that the average cost of fertilizers for an acre of wheat in New Hampshire is $5.50. In the newer states this item cuts little figure.

THE JOB FOSTER HAS.

He Is Not to Be Ambassador to Turkey.

WILL SETTLE SEAL QUESTION.

Ex-Secretary Hamlin Is Also to Assist.
Russia, Japan and the United States
Likely to Join Hands to Protect the Seal—May Brand Them.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The administration proposes to lose no time in taking up the fur seal controversy. It is learned that at the cabinet meeting on Tuesday it was decided, after a full discussion between the president and Secretary Sherman, to invite Mr. John S.

Foster to take charge of the conduct of
these matters under the direction of the secretary of state, and that Mr. C. S.
Hamlin, retiring assistant secretary of
the treasury, who has given the question careful study for the past four
years, will be asked to co-operate on behalf of the treasury department.

It is known that the president has
taken the liveliest interest in this matter and there is every reason to believe
that there will now be what Russia has
long desired, hearty co-operation between herself and the United States on
this question and probably united
action will be taken by both nations
and possibly Japan to stop the slaughter
now going on at sea. The high regard entertained for Mr. Foster in Russia
and his intimate knowledge of the seal
question obtained through his conduct
of the case of the United States before
the Paris tribunal of arbitration especially fit him for the task assigned him
by the president.

The continued diminution and threatened extermination of the seal herds reported by Prof. Jordan, as the result of his investigations on the seal islands last
year, is said to greatly concern the president, and probably the first step made
will be an attempt to secure a renewal
of the modus vivendi of 1891, to which
the United States, Russia and England
would be parties. This would suspend
all killing in Bering sea till next year,
when, under the terms of the Paris
award, the regulations now in force will
be reconsidered with a view to their
modification.

Failing to secure a modus vivendi it
is believed the government will employ
all its resources to protect the herd as
much as it can from injury pending
negotiations. The branding of females
and pups, thus destroying their pelts,
so successfully experimented with last
year, will doubtless be resorted to on
the largest possible scale.

WESTERNERS NOT TO BLAME.

Senator Warren's Comment on Senator
Chandler's View of the Tariff.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Commenting
upon Senator Chandler's statement in regard to the possible failure of the
tariff bill because of too high rates,
Senator Warren of Wyoming said:

"I do not consider it entirely fair and
certainly not judicious to impute at
this time to western senators a disposition to be extreme in their tariff views,
or to insinuate that the tariff bill will
fail because of radical demands for
western interests. Such a presumption
would be premature and tend to demoralize rather than intimidate as perhaps intended.

The tariff bill will fail, as it ought
to fail, if it is sectional and partial and
does not equitably recognize agricultural, mining and lumber interests as well as others. Eastern interests are always well represented at the capital
by competent experts in all eastern
economic lines; they are in continual
attendance on the committees, so that
eastern senators and congressmen do
not have much left to contend for before the committees having charge of
tariff bills, and the duties being arranged satisfactorily for them in committees, they need make but little effort on the floor while tariff bills are
under consideration.

On the other hand the agricultural
and western interests are not thus represented, but feeling that they are entitled to consideration, they appeal to their representatives in congress and thus western senators have greater responsibilities and more to do than eastern senators in contending for a just scale of import duties. But their activity must not be taken as hostility.
"If it be decided that one section of the country must take buzzard while another demands turkey in order to reform the tariff, then reformation had better be delayed, regrettable as such a result would be and to none more regrettable than to western senators."

PAYMENTS TO ATTORNEYS.

Chandler Wants Interstate Commerce Commission Acts Investigated.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Mr. Chandler has offered a resolution, which was agreed to in the senate, as follows:

Resolved, That the committee on interstate commerce be directed to investigate the payments made or agreed to be made in the interstate commerce commission for attorneys fees; and also to inquire whether in any cases the attorneys
of the commission have also been employed by railroad companies in similar cases; and further whether any additional authority from congress is required for the employment of counsel in any pending proceedings which have been instituted by or on motion of the commission.

The resolution of Mr. Earl (Dem., S.
C.) for the reorganization of the senate committees went over, Mr. Chandler presenting an amendment to be urged when the resolution is taken up.
The amendment provides that on Tuesday, April 20, at 2 p. m., the senate will proceed to appoint its committees.

MELTON MUCH IMPROVED.

An Effort to Be Made to Secure His Release From Prison.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The state department has been informed that the health of Ona Melton, one of the Competitors prisoners, which has been reported to be very bad, is now much improved.

When he recovers completely an effort will be made to separate his case from those of the other prisoners on the ground that he was a newspaper man
and not a combatant.

BEAUTIFUL
EMBOSSING NEWS REVIEW.

AN EXCITING FIRE.

Some Sensational Rescues and Deaths at Knoxville, Tenn.

THE LOSS ABOUT $1,500,000.

Number of Lives Lost Uncertain—Mrs.
Dropped Dead—Wall Shot Down With a Cannon—Relief Train's East Run, Business Section Destroyed.

KNOXVILLE, April 9.—The very heart of the city, including some of the large-
est wholesale and retail business houses
in the south, were destroyed by the fire here. The loss is variously estimated at from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000, with about 60 per cent of insurance. It originated in the Hotel Knox.

The loss of life is very uncertain, as the Knox hotel register, in which 56 people were sleeping was burned. The proprietor of the hotel says that he had five or six guests who have not put in an appearance. A. E. Weeks of Locke, N. Y., drummer for a Rochester Stamping company, is known to have perished
in the flames. R. W. Hopkins, a St.
Louis drummer, was last seen in the burning building in a suffocating condition.

W. H. Kephart, ex-secretary of the chamber of commerce, saved the life of John Bogle, an old farmer, by dragging him to a window and letting him out on the roof of another building. Kephart jumped one story and was injured.
When the firemen thought all the mates of the hotel had escaped a woman, with an infant in her arms,
rushed to the rear window and screamed for help. A net was quickly stretched and the woman asked to drop the child out, but, as the smoke almost choked her, she told them that if one had to die both would die. The woman was finally rescued by the firemen.

In the wholesale hardware house of
W. W. Woodruff & Co. a large dynamite explosion occurred and scores of people were hurt by flying brick and glass. It became necessary at last to have the walls of one building blown down by cannon to stop the mad career of the fire. A mountain howitzer of the Knoxville Legion was called into play and a load of canister did the work, at the same time tearing up some residences in a different portion of the city. The city authorities, realizing that the fire department was unable to conquer the flames, telegraphed to Chattanooga for assistance.

An engine was placed aboard a flatcar and started the run of 111 miles, which was made by Engineer Robbins in 100 minutes, breaking the record. When the engine arrived here the fire was about under control, yet the Chattanooga boys did some work.

A cabinetmaker named P. C. Dyer fell dead on the street from fright.
A man named Robinson from Pa-
laski, Tenn., is supposed to be another victim. He was registered in the hotel and has not shown up.

All the buildings are to be replaced at once.

Among the losses and insurance are
the following:

McNulty Grocery company, loss, $15,000;
insurance, $5,000.
McNulty, building; loss, $45,000; insurance, $27,000.

PLAYED BY SHREWD BLACKBURN.

He Made Hunter's Election Impossible
by Strengthening Deadlock.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 9.—Some wag wrote on the register of the leading hotel "M. A. Hanna, Ohio."

There was a regular stampede in the hotel lobby among the politicians who did not catch on to the joke, and the further fact that the supposed visitor was assigned to "parlor A," the well-known headquarters of Senator Goebel, leader of the Blackburn Democrats, added to the excitement. It is now generally conceded that only some such power as the positive force that could be exercised by the national chairman
or the national administration itself can break the present deadlock. The deadlock is more pronounced than ever before, and the shrewd Blackburn sits smiling in his headquarters, well satisfied with the way in which he has "played" Frankfort, the gold Democrats,
anti-Hunter Republicans and everyone concerned.

The impossibility of Hunter's election is now conceded by some of his leaders who have fought as gallantly as he against great odds and who are growing desperate enough to resolve against letting any other Republican take his place. Their conception of probable defeat comes with a last bitter anti-Hunter statement from the six-tying Republicans who absolutely burn the last bridges behind them and make the possibility of their return to him too remote to be considered.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, APRIL 9

Mr. Bryan fell down at St. Augustine

yesterday. Isn't this the same gentle-

man who fell down all over the country

last November?

With toll gate raiders, a feud or two

average resident of Kentucky need not

lack for excitement.

Mr. Cleveland's retirement is more

complete than was expected. Even the

Will the Democrats and Populists

fuse in Columbiana county this year?

That is the question to which Mr. Potts

would just now like an answer.

From now until November those who

tween Mr. Brice and Mr. McLean.

This country has paid almost $500,000

for indignities heaped upon aliens by

American mobs. If for no other than

past.

It is always a good sign when a news-

paper is compelled to increase its size as

is the News Review today. It shows

that the business men recognize its

in which it is circulated.

It is cheering to know that the senti-

ment against a restricted immigration

has not died out in the senate, and the

the senators of the opposition to remember that the movement has not passed

away.

SENATOR SHERMAN suggested to Senor

de Lome that it would be a bad thing

shot as a traitor, and Rivera was not

shot. That is one result of this nation's

liberty.

Some of the Washington correspond-

ents seem to think that General Bush-

nell would like to be a United States

senator, but that gentleman's friends

by acclamation. Now where is the

fight in Ohio?

The reported action of the senate

received with wild acclamations of joy

and gladness by the farmers whose flocks

comes have been seriously curtailed in

consequence.

If there is a long pull and a strong

year, but if there are to be fights and

factions and internal dissension the Re-

publican leaders might just as well understand now that a Democrat will be

the next senator from Ohio, and the six

year.

OUT in Kansas City there is a man

who believes that it does not pay to try

with a woman's affections. A dozen

years ago he courted a young lady and

then married another. Recently he announced his candidacy for the mayoral-

ty of the town, the woman remembered his broken promise and communi-

cated it to her friends. Today some

other man is mayor.

Signs of prosperity continue to

treasury department shows that the

amount in circulation April 1 was

$140,371,331 more than on the same date

a year ago. That is a large amount of money, and every cent of it represents

believe their wealth is as safe when

afloat in the channels of trade as when

in a stocking.

OHIO WOMEN'S LONG WALK.

They Footed It Most the Way From Ra-

venna to Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURG, April 9.—There arrived at

Hope mission, on Market street last

persons who are conducting that institution. They represent three generations of one family, a grandmother,

mere toddling infant, while the grand-

mother is in her 80th year.

The trio seemed to have performed a

remarkable journey, as the mother and

her daughter appear to have walked a

great part of the distance between Ra-

about a year.

Mrs. Mary Ann Jackson, her maiden

names being Stokes, says she was born

in Bedford, Pa., 79 years ago on the 11th of last August. She was married

when very young and has been a widow

55 years. Her husband's name was

William Jackson, who was an engineer

and ran a steamboat in and out of

out of Pittsburg on one of the roads

leading west.

His father's name was Andrew

Jackson, but he was not related to the

Mrs. Lily Ann Morris, whose husband,

the old lady said, is located here. They

county, Ind., where the old lady and

her husband formerly resided.

The old woman, in spite of her advanced years, did not seem to be affected to any appreciable extent by her

hard tramp, and was lively and talka-

tive last evening. Mrs. Morris had little to say. Mrs. Jackson says she has a son living in a small town near Massillon, O.

THE C. & O.'S EARNINGS?

Largest Monthly Receipts in the History of the Road.

CINCINNATI, April 9.—The earnings

of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad

for the month of March were $1,035,-

886, being an increase over the corresponding month of last year of $233,-

186. These are the largest monthly

earnings in the history of the road and

show an increase of 2 per cent.

Last December the earnings were

is this year, operated on a 4 per cent of its earnings. On this basis the report shows a continued dividend of 1 1/2 per cent for the stockholders after all the

in business is due mostly to the new

made and this traffic will keep up the

increase.

Three Masked Men Bound, Gagged and

Robbed Them.

SANDUSKY, O., April 9.—Three

masked men entered the residence of

Mr. and Mrs. James Ford, an aged

couple living at Pinkertown, near this

city, and after binding and gagging

them attempted at the points of re-

place of their money. They would not

do so and after a long search the rob-

bers found $100 in money and other

valuables.

Sometime afterward Mrs. Ford

worked loose from the bindings and

Ex-Secretary Hamlin Is Also to Assist.

Russia, Japan and the United States

Likely to Join Hands to Protect the

Seal—May Brand Them.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The administration proposes to lose no time in taking up the fur seal controversy. It is

learned that at the cabinet meeting on

Tuesday it was decided, after a full discussion between the president and Secretary Sherman, to invite Mr. John S.

these matters under the direction of the

secretary of state, and that Mr. C. S.

Hamlin, retiring assistant secretary of

the treasury, who has given the question careful study for the past four

half of the treasury department.

It is known that the president has

taken the liveliest interest in this matter and there is every reason to believe

long desired, hearty co-operation between herself and the United States on

this question and probably united

and possibly Japan to stop the slaughter

entertained for Mr. Foster in Russia

and his intimate knowledge of the seal

question obtained through his conduct

of the case of the United States before

the Paris tribunal of arbitration especially fits him for the task assigned him

by the president.

The continued diminution and threatened extermination of the seal herd re-

his investigations on the seal islands last

year, is said to greatly concern the pre-

the United States, Russia and England

would be parties. This would suspend

all killing in Bering sea till next year,

when, under the terms of the Paris

award, the regulations now in force will

be reconsidered with a view to their

modification.

all its resources to protect the herd as

much as it can from injury pending

negotiations. The branding of females

and pups, thus destroying their pelts,

so successfully experimented with last

year, will doubtless be resorted to on

the largest possible scale.

WESTERNERS NOT TO BLAME.

Senator Warren's Comment on Senator

Chandler's View of the Tariff.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Commenting

regard to the possible failure of the

tariff bill because of too high rates,

Senator Warren of Wyoming said:

"I do not consider it entirely fair and

certainly not judicious to impute at

this time to western senators a dispo-

sition to be extreme in their tariff views,

or to insinuate that the tariff bill will

fail because of radical demands for

would be premature and tend to de-

moralize rather than intimidate as perhaps intended.

"The tariff bill will fail, as it ought

to fail, if it is sectional and partial and

does not equitably recognize agricultural, mining and lumber interests as

well as others. Eastern interests are

always well represented at the capital

by competent experts in all eastern

economic lines; they are in continual

not have much left to contend for be-

fore the committees having charge of

tariff bills, and the duties being ar-

ranged satisfactorily for them in committees, they need make but little ef-

fort on the floor while tariff bills are

under consideration.

On the other hand the agricultural

and western interests are not thus

A MUDBLE OVER ARMOR

Only One Firm Bid to Furnish Plate.

TOO IRREGULAR TO ACCEPT.

Whole Matter Will Have to Be Referred to Congress—Two Propositions from Illinois Steel Company—Carnegie and Bethlehem Firm Refuse to Bid

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The navy department received but one bid in answer to the advertisement calling for proposals for supplying about 8,000 tons of armor for the three battleships, Illinois, Wisconsin and Alabama, and this one was so irregular in form as to be far wide of the advertisement.

The single bid was from the Illinois Steel company of Chicago, and it proposed to supply the 8,000 tons of armor at $260 per ton on condition that it be given a 30-year contract to supply all of the naval armor. In such case the remainder of the armor be paid the 8,000 tons would be supplied at $240 per ton. The armor was to be paid for in gold coin. An alternative proposition contemplated the erection of an armor plant by the government and its supply with steel by the Illinois company. No awards have been made and the whole matter probably will be referred to congress.

On the first proposition the company further says:

"Should we be unable to furnish said minimum quantity of armor plate in any one year, we agree to pay as liquidated damages the sum of $100 per ton for any such quantity as we may be in default of; the government agreeing that should it not require the minimum quantity in any one year, it will pay us $100 per ton, as liquidated damages for the difference between the amount ordered by it, and the above named minimum."

"In addition to the foregoing, in order to guarantee continuous delivery throughout each year, we will agree to pay a penalty of $10 per ton, as liquidated damages, on all armor plate due and undelivered at the end of each calendar month."

"We understand the government has the right to the use of the Harveyizing process and that we would not be liable for the payment of royalty thereunder."

"For the faithful performance of the work in accordance with this offer we are prepared to furnish a good and satisfactory bond to the secretary of the navy in the penal sum of $1,000,000."

Proposition number two says in part: "We hereby offer to lease to the United States government sufficient ground at our South Chicago works, for a period of 99 years, at a rental of $1 per annum on the following conditions, namely, that it will erect thereon, within a period of two years, a plant, for the manufacture of armor plate of a minimum capacity of 500 tons per month, and that it purchase from us such acid or basic open hearth steel, of approved quality, as the plant may require."

"Convenient to this property we have the most modern openhearth plant that has yet been constructed, at which we are today prepared to cast ingots of 100 tons weight, and, with moderate expenditure, are prepared, on 30 days notice, to cast and handle ingots weighing 150 tons each."

"As the benefits to us would be considerable in having this extensive plant established in Chicago, we will agree to supply the steel ingots at $22.50 per ton (payments to be in gold on 20th of month following deliveries) on the gross weight of the ingots, we allowing credit of $5 per ton for the steel scrap."

"This price of $22.50 is for plain steel, under the conditions of this contract the government would no doubt supply itself with nickel. The extra cost of treatment in the open hearth plant could be satisfactorily arranged between an official of the navy department and ourselves. Our plant would be at the service of the navy department, and we would render all the assistance in our power, giving the free use of our laboratories, etc., in experimenting with other alloys, recognizing that the art of armor plate making is progressive."

President Schwab of the Carnegie company writes that they are unable to bid, as "with all our facilities and experience we cannot supply the government with armor of the quality we are now making at that price ($300)." Referring to the testimony given by the company before congressional committees, Mr. Schwab says: "We trust you will be able to satisfy congress of the importance of such legislation as will enable you to negotiate with armor manufacturers to secure at a fair price the quality of armor the government should have. If you were in position now to negotiate with us, and we could not agree upon price, we would be perfectly willing to have the price fixed by arbitration—the arbitrators to be men skilled in the art."

Vice President and General Manager Sayre sets out the position of the Bethlehem Iron company in a long letter. He says the company cannot bid within the price ($300) per ton fixed by congress. Mr. Sayre says that while the company cannot supply the small quantity of armor required at prices materially lower than those now paid, it still stands ready to sell its plant to the government below cost, at a fair price, to be fixed by suitable arbitration. If, however, congress will remove the limitation on price, he believes he can agree with the department upon a fair price, not greater than that paid for similar armor by any other country in the world.

DEFIANT DR. SWALLOW.

He Evades Questions About His Charges by Being the Aggressor.

HARRISBURG, April 9.—The Rev. Dr. Swallow was called before the joint house and senate committee and given a chance to prove his accusation that the burning of the capitol was the result of carelessness. The doctor was defiant and assumed the role of aggressor instead of defendant. He served notice on the members that he would not permit Sergeant-at-Arms Eyre or any other persons connected with the committee to visit his store and annoy his clerks with questions about himself when he was absent. The doctor said Eyre was a liar and bulldozer and the sergeant-at-arms replied that the clergyman was a prevaricator.

Dr. Swallow produced Charles Stock, a Harrisburg fireman, who testified that he entered the basement of the capitol during the fire because of seeing flames there, and that the big blaze was overhead, a considerable distance away. Here he found an independent fire in an apartment which he regarded as a storage room, but which he had been told was used by the pastors and folders. There was fire on the floor under a table. The ceiling and walls were intact, and the flames, according to the witness, could not have been communicated from the outside.

The doctor declined to furnish the committee the names of his informants because, as he put it, he has had experience in this matter. He claimed three witnesses, all of them women, have been tampered with. "I had another witness," he said, "who had been prepared to swear that he had been offered a bribe of $200 to withdraw a bid. He has since been given a contract and is no longer of any use to me."

The doctor called an official from the weather bureau to prove that the wind on the day of the burning of the capitol was blowing at the rate of 25 miles an hour in an opposite direction from that in which the blaze spread. This testimony was disputed by several members of the committee, and the witness admitted that he might be mistaken.

The committee will meet again next Tuesday, when Dr. Swallow is expected to produce all his witnesses. Judge Simonson has ordered the motion for a new trial for Dr. Swallow, convicted on the charge of libeling Captain J. C. Delaney, to be put on the argument list.

WHAT TURKEY WANTS.

Contents of Three Notes Delivered to the European Powers.

LONDON, April 9.—A dispatch to The Times from Constantinople says that the porte has communicated to the ambassadors the contents of three circulars dispatched to the Ottoman representatives abroad.

The first, dated April 5, notifies the powers that the porte is willing to withdraw the Turkish garrison from Crete immediately if the Greeks previously withdraw and the powers guarantee to pacify the island. It demands also that Greece should evacuate Crete forthwith.

The second is dated April 6 and protests, in anticipation, against the appointment by the powers of a European governor of the island. The third, dated April 7, protests against the injustice of disarming the Cretan Mohammedans while the Christians are permitted to retain their arms.

ATHENS, April 9.—There is an evident disinclination on the part of some of the powers to carry out any program of coercion and a weakening of purpose in the European federation, which is showing signs of decrepitude. The similarity of language between the declaration and the recent warning of The Journal Des Petersbourg has been noticed here, and this latest step of the powers is attributed to the Russian initiative.

Count Muraviev, the Russian foreign minister, has already become the bete noire of the Greeks. His uniformly hostile attitude has produced great indignation. Well informed persons here believe that Count Muraviev, who inherits the traditions of an autocratic family, is resolved to play a material role in European politics and to leave an impression upon the history of his time.

W. J. BRYAN INJURED.

Made Unconscious by Fall of a Platform in Florida—Others Injured.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., April 9.—Hon. W. J. Bryan has been injured here by the caving in of the Piazza from which he was speaking. Nearly 400 men and women were precipitated about 20 feet to the ground and many of them injured, but none fatally. Mr. Bryan was picked up unconscious and removed to a physician's office, where an examination revealed that he had received no injuries of a serious character. It was deemed best, however, to abandon the reception which was to have been given him.

Mr. Bryan on arriving here was greeted at the station by several hundred people. He addressed fully 3,000 persons from the piazza of the San Marco hotel. At the close of his speech hundreds of people flocked about him and so great was the strain that one section of the piazza 40 feet square fell through.

FLOOD SITUATION UNCHANGED.

A Heavy Rain Accompanied by Wind Reported—Distributing Relief.

MEMPHIS, April 9.—Telegrams received from the flooded areas of the Mississippi delta report the situation unchanged. A heavy rain, accompanied by a strong northwest wind, has prevailed. Information from the Flower Lake crevasse says that the break is 1,700 feet wide.

Relief is being distributed to the sufferers.

At Helena the river has fallen 2 feet 11 inches since the levee gave way on Sunday. The backwater in the southern part of the city is at a stand. Many flood refugees are being taken to Helena, and the number in that city will now probably reach 3,000. The relief committee is doing good work and no complaints have been made. The river is falling at all points between Cairo and Helena.

THE MANIAC IN THE CAR.

A Drama With a Satisfactory Ending For All but the Nervous Woman.

It was perfectly obvious that the man in the corner was crazy. At least it was perfectly obvious to the nervous looking woman who sat just opposite him in the cable car. It was not so much the mystical series of wigwag signals which he was making with his handkerchief as the amazing contortions of his face. In the intervals of these contortions he stared intently in the direction of his nervous vis-a-vis, but at nothing in the world, so vague was his look. Then he would tap the bridge of his nose with his finger, grimace and screw up his features into horrible expressions of malignant madness.

The poor woman didn't know what to do. Her alarm was so apparent that all the others in the car noticed it, even the man himself in one of his lucid intervals, and thereafter his performances became more violent than ever. Every physician knows that maniacs delight in playing upon the terrors of those who exhibit fear of them. Perhaps the woman herself knew it. At any rate her feelings finally reached an intensity such that when the man half rose from his seat she shrank into her corner with a stifled squeak, which brought from him a glance of triumph, or perhaps it was surprise. But he only sank back again, with an expression of disappointment, as if his time had not yet come, which indeed it hadn't. Thereafter she held herself gathered close, with every muscle strained, ready to spring and flee. She didn't have long to wait.

The man looked toward her with that terrible, unseeing glare. His fists clinched. The handkerchief clinched in one of them jerked in short, sharp oscillations. His eyes began to bulge out. His face became purple. Beneath his curling lips could be seen his teeth, bare to the gums. He leaned forward toward the horror struck woman, his face protruding almost into hers. His sharp, hot breath was on her cheek, and just as his arms went up to clutch she made one bound from her seat that took her half way down the car.

Two more leaps landed her on the platform. Thence, with a mad yell, she launched herself forth, despite the restraining grasp of the alarmed conductor, and was fortunately caught by a policeman, who escorted her to the sidewalk, where she wept. From behind she heard a mad, gasping roar of baffled rage, but the maniac did not follow.

He didn't want to. He sank back in his seat again, and wiped his tearful eyes. Then he took out a newspaper and began to read. It had been a hard struggle, but it had ended in victory. He had got that sneeze out.—New York Sun.

IN A LONDON THEATER.

A First Night as Seen by the Artist C. D. Gibson.

A London audience is brilliant. Every one is in evening dress, and the audience is often more entertaining than the play. This is especially true on a first night. At such times the pit is watched most anxiously by the management, as the success of the piece generally depends on its verdict. It has often occurred to me, when I have seen people on a stormy night forming a line on the pavement outside the pit entrance, taking it all seriously enough to stand there for hours before the doors were opened, that by letting them inside, the management might improve their spirits and they in their turn might be more gentle.

And it has also occurred to me when I have seen a stout man standing in the aisle fumbling for a sixpence or a shilling in pockets that probably only contain a bank note and a goldpiece that the management might further improve the spirits of its audience by doing away with women ushers, and by selling the programme at the same time it sells the seat, for it is hardly fair to the first act of a play to make it overcome the fretfulness caused by annoying attendants before it can hope to amuse.

But the second act is sure to have a fair start, and if the play is good from there on it will have no reason to complain of the audience.—C. D. Gibson in Scribner's.

Killed the Devil.

A burglar recently met with his deserts in a dramatic manner. In the neighborhood of a place called Huntsburg, near Oldenburg, two little boys, aged respectively 8 and 12, were left by their mother at home to take care of the house. A man with blackened face and in black attire suddenly entered and announced himself to the scared little nites as his satanic majesty. "I am the devil. Where do you keep your money?"

They instantly pointed toward the massive trunk where the modest wealth of the parents was treasured up. While, however, the murky looking impostor was ransacking the chest, the younger of the two boys whispered to his brother, "Go and fetch the gun and shoot the devil dead."

The brother jumped at the idea, fetched the loaded weapon, crept up to the unsuspecting thief and lodged the whole charge in his back. He fell back dead.—London Telegraph.

DISEASES OF TRADES.

RESULTS OF CONTINUED OCCUPATION OF MEN WHO WORK.

It Appears That Each Kind of Employment Has Its Peculiar Ailment—Both Physical and Mental Workers Fall Under the Rule—Politicians Die Early.

It is well known that there are a number of dangerous trades which give rise to serious diseases; but, as a matter of fact, almost every occupation has some ailment peculiar to itself. A doctor can always tell if his patient is a baker, for instance, by the state of his teeth. The flour dust collects on the teeth, becomes acid and gives rise to a special kind of decay. Bakers, owing to their irregular life, sleeping in the day and working at night, and because of the hot air and dust, are great victims to consumption. Blacksmiths, strong as they are, very often suffer from paralysis of the whole right side from the continuous shock of hammering, and their eyes become weak from the glare of the fire. Athletes, strange to say, do not, as a rule, enjoy long life. Professional boxers, wrestlers, gymnasts, cyclists, are short lived and suffer from enlargement of the heart and diseases of the lungs. Boilermakers get deaf from the continual loud noise. Brewers and brewers' drivers drink beer in such large quantities that they ruin their livers and generally die young. Bricklayers and plasterers are very healthy, and they are said to resemble asses in never dying. Butchers are very strong and healthy, but they suffer in health through eating little pieces of raw meat. Cabmen are noted for "nipping," and they endure the natural consequences. The cold also affects their faces to such a degree that the muscles of the face become frequently paralyzed.

Carpenters and cabinet makers are afflicted with varicose veins in the legs, and the action of the shoulder in sawing and planing produces a diseased condition of the large artery that runs from the heart to the arm, so that there is not a carpenter living, a doctor says, in whom a curious noise may not be heard by applying the ear to that blood vessel. Hardly a single china scourer lives to old age without becoming asthmatic. Clergymen's sore throat is of course well known. It is said by some to result from having the mouth open so frequently, the air going in that way and drying the throat. Others say it is caused by the clerical collar. And others still say it results from the fact that the clergyman preaches from a pulpit and has to bend his head downward—for barristers, who talk quite as much, do not suffer as much as clergymen, being on the same level as their hearers.

Miners, from working in the dark, become very irritable. Their eyes get weak, and their lungs become quite black—miners' lung. Cooks, particularly male cooks working in hotels, clubs and restaurants, get gout from continually tasting rich food, and both male and female cooks get varicose veins and flat feet from long standing as well as the well known ache of the face from the heat and dirt. Coopers have a lump on the knee, which is really a little bag of fluid put there by nature to protect the knee from the injurious effects of pressing it against the barrel. Divers' hearts become distended from holding their breath.

Domestic servants are remarkable for suffering from typhoid fever. Housemaids are frequently afflicted with poverty of blood from drinking tea and running up stairs. Dressmakers' long hours and confinement result in consumption very often, but more often in indigestion, poverty of blood and impaired eyesight. The fumes of nitric acid make goldsmiths' eyes sore, and they get cramps in their fingers from catching small screws. Nearly all the human beings who suffer from that awful disease, glanders, are groomers.

India rubber workers have very bad headaches and great mental depression. Painters are poisoned by the lead they use so much, and all their muscles, but especially their wrist muscles, become very weak. Photographers get poisoned by cyanide of potassium. The dust that enters the lungs of potters when they are sifting clay interferes so much with their breathing that "potter's asthma" is a well known disease. Composers get cracks and fissures in the lips and small tumors in their mouths from the habit of putting type in the mouth, and consumption attacks them frequently because of the stooping posture and the confined, sedentary life. Politicians are greatest sufferers of all, the constant drum drinking giving them indigestion, jaundice and nervous diseases, killing them at an earlier age than members of any other profession. Sailors, very singularly, suffer greatly from consumption, owing to the cold and damp and the bad air of the forecastle. Salesmen and saleswomen in shops do a lot of standing, which gives them varicose veins and pains in the feet. Cloth scourers, who inhale benzine and turpentine, suffer from headache, lassitude and nervousness. Shoemakers get their chest pressed in by the last, lose their appetite and strength and have headaches. Stonecutters' eyes are often injured by the flying stone.

Tea tasters, although they only take the tea into the mouth and do not swallow it, become so nervous that they can follow their employment for only a period of eight to ten years. The sedentary life of lawyers, artists, students and literary men gives rise to gout, which is said to kill more wise men than fools; dyspepsia, which made Carlyle's life such a torture, and apoplexy, which carries off hosts of great men.—Pall Mall Gazette.

ODD CHARACTERS.

Some of the People Who Seek Fame Through Uncommon Channels.

"I think if all the cranks in this country were corralled," remarked the clerk in the treasury department, "and put under a shed somewhere it would require one bigger than all the buildings at the World's fair."

"Would there really be anybody to do the corraling?" inquired a pessimistic old party, who thinks there is none good—no, not one.

"As I was saying," continued the treasury clerk, "it would take the biggest shed on earth, and still there is a new kind. This time it is a man or woman who has been sending in 10 cents at a time as a contribution to the conscience fund, with a name signed in full, and there is no such name on the treasury books and never has been. I suppose it is merely some crank who thinks he or she will get that name in the papers and have that much fame out of it."

"That's silly enough," chipped in a postoffice inspector, "but I heard of the oddest chap on my last trip down south. You may not know, or, if you do, don't pay much attention to the fact, that there is a fine of $10 for sending written matter through the mails under any rate except 2 cents an ounce. Very likely you have sent enough stuff written on papers, books and so on to bankrupt you if you had the fines to pay, but Uncle Sam is easy, and I don't know of a case where anybody ever had to pay the fine. In this instance a man came into a certain office down south and gave the postmaster $500, being the amount of fines he owed the government for violation of postage laws as far as he could recall them. He was a young man, and he stated that he had violated the law while in love with a girl to whom he sent papers and books occasionally, and, though he wrote to her every day, he couldn't let the others go without writing something on them. The postmaster didn't know how to act in the premises, and just what he would have done finally nobody knows, but the next day the young man's father came to the postmaster and told him that his son had been jilted by his sweetheart, and it had crazed him. This was an explanation which satisfied the official, and the money was returned."

"Ugh!" grunted the pessimistic old party, in no wise affected by the pathos of the little story. "Only a crazy person or an idiot would ever think of settling square with Uncle Sam for a little bunko game like that."—Washington Star.

MARCH HAS ITS VIOLETS.

And There Is a Bright and Cheerful Side to Everything.

Edward W. Bok, under the title of "The Odor of Spring Violets," writes most forcibly in The Ladies' Home Journal on the theme that there is a bright side to everything—even to March, the most disagreeable month of the year, for it has its spring violets. "It is true," he writes, "that it is difficult sometimes to see the bright side of sorrow, sickness and death. And yet there is distinctly a bright side. No sorrow comes to us without a reason. We never know our friends until sorrow or illness comes to us. We never know what loving kindness and thoughtfulness mean until we stand in need of them, and our hearts seem to beat against the walls of a cold, merciless world. We learn something from every grief and from each pain which comes to us. We learn to distinguish between friends, and what more priceless possession is there in the whole range of knowledge than this? What develops us more than trouble? Virtues of heart, which we never dreamed of as existing within us, reveal themselves when we are sorely tried. That is why sorrow and trials are given us—not to give pain, but to develop us, to better equip us for something unknown which lies in the future, and which we could not meet or understand unless we had first gone through certain experiences."

"We are far too apt to regard actual blessings as calamities, to look upon the dark side of things. Some sorrow comes to us, and we rebel. It never occurs to us that perhaps we need the experience which sorrow alone can give. Illness comes, and we fret. But we can not always be well. Ailments are very often given to us to make our appreciation of good health the keener. God has an aim, a direct purpose, in everything he does. His blessings come in different forms. Nor are these forms always such as we would choose. Lessons can be more effectively taught in innumerable cases through sorrow than through pleasure. We should never know what a pure, beautiful color white is if we did not have black to bring out the contrast. We want only pleasure in our lives. When sorrow comes, we rebel and refuse to recognize it for what it so often is—a blessing in disguise. We cannot always have it June. There must be March. Yet March has its spring violets."

HOBBS

Challenge to the Citizens of East Liverpool, Which Appeared in this Paper Yesterday, Creates

A TREMENDOUS SENSATION

The Public Seem Thoroughly Aroused

A General Eagerness to Know What the Outcome of This Affair will be is Plainly Noticeable Amongst Many of Our Readers.

JULIUS HOBBS, M. D.,

As a result of the announcement made by this paper yesterday, that a free package of Dr. Hobbs' Sparagus Kidney Pills would be given away to any of our readers who would call at Alvin H. Bulger's, Pharmacist, corner Sixth and West Market streets, tomorrow, an intense interest has been awakened in this distribution.

A large number of people called last evening and this morning to make inquiries about the free samples of this wonderful medicine to be given away tomorrow, which shows what general interest is taken by the public in the test now being given by Dr. Hobbs of his discovery for the cure of all kidney ailments.

Much to our gratification, a number of lady callers have shown an unusual interest in this great distribution.

"Can it be possible," said a man who called yesterday, "that the advancement in the science of medicine has at last reached a climax for poor sufferers like myself?"

"I am going to say one thing at any rate. The owners of this medicine certainly have faith in it, and they are going about it in an honest, straightforward manner. Just this thing alone gives me confidence and strong hope that I shall again be a well man."

Another caller yesterday—a lady—said: "I live several miles away from East Liverpool, but I am going to get a sample of this kidney medicine for my husband. He has been a sufferer from kidney diseases for many years."

"We have spent thousands of dollars with the best doctors we could hear of, North and South, but at the best he has received only temporary relief."

"Dr. Hobbs' announcement that he has made a discovery which will cure and build up the kidneys, and his offer to prove it by the giving away of a free package, is quite a novelty to me, as heretofore it has been 'pay' whether the medicine did any good or not."

"We are going to give this remedy a good, fair trial, and I hope that others, suffering as my husband is, will hear of it and accept the kind and generous offer which Dr. Hobbs makes."

It is expected that tomorrow there will be a great rush of applicants for a free package of Dr. Hobbs' Sparagus Kidney Pills. But no matter what the demand is Alvin H. Bulger is well prepared to meet it.

"All those living in East Liverpool or any town outside who apply at our store tomorrow in person, or write for a sample, will be welcome, and not only a

of this wonderful medicine will be given or sent to each applicant, but also Dr. Hobbs' little book, which is in a concise way, treats on kidney troubles.

This great free distribution ends tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock, so that all who wish to avail themselves of Dr. Hobbs' generous offer should call tomorrow, or write, or they will miss the opportunity.

Needles.

Needles are all made by machinery. The piece of mechanism by which the needle is manufactured takes the rough steel wire, cuts it into proper lengths, files the point, flattens the head, pierces the eye, then sharpens the tiny instrument and gives it that polish familiar to the purchaser. There is also a machine by which needles are counted and placed in the papers in which they are sold, these being afterward folded by the same contrivance.

A MUDDLE OVER ARMOR

Only One Firm Bid to Furnish Plate.

100 IRREGULAR TO ACCEPT.

Whole Matter Will Have to Be Referred to Congress—Two Propositions from Illinois Steel Company—Carnegie and Bethlehem Firm Refuse to Bid

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The navy department received but one bid in answer to the advertisement calling for proposals for supplying about 8,000 tons of armor for the three battleships, Illinois, Wisconsin and Alabama, and this one was so irregular in form as to be far side of the advertisement.

The single bid was from the Illinois Steel company of Chicago, and it proposed to supply the 8,000 tons of armor at $260 per ton on condition that it be given a 20-year contract to supply all of the naval armor. In such case the remainder of the armor beyond the 8,000 tons would be supplied at $240 per ton. The armor was to be paid for in gold coin. An alternative proposition contemplated the erection of an armor plant by the government and its supply with steel by the Illinois company. No awards have been made and the whole matter probably will be referred to congress.

On the first proposition the company further says:

"Should we be unable to furnish said minimum quantity of armor plate in any one year, we agree to pay as liquidated damages the sum of $100 per ton for any such quantity as we may be in default of; the government agreeing that should it not require the minimum quantity in any one year, it will pay us $100 per ton, as liquidated damages for the difference between the amount ordered by it, and the above named minimum.

"In addition to the foregoing, in order to guarantee continuous delivery throughout each year, we will agree to pay a penalty of $10 per ton, as liquidated damages, on all armor plate due and undelivered at the end of each calendar month.

"We understand the government has the right to the use of the Harveizing process and that we would not be liable for the payment of royalty thereunder.

"For the faithful performance of the work in accordance with this offer we are prepared to furnish a good and satisfactory bond to the secretary of the navy in the penal sum of $1,000,000.

"Proposition number two says in part: 'We hereby offer to lease to the United States government sufficient ground at our South Chicago works, for a period of 99 years, at a rental of $1 per annum on the following conditions, namely, that it will erect thereon, within a period of two years, a plant for the manufacture of armor plate of a minimum capacity of 500 tons per month, and that it purchase from us such acid and basic open hearth steel of approved quality, as the plant may require.

"Convenient to this property we have the most modern openhearth plant that has yet been constructed, at which we are today prepared to cast ingots of 100 tons weight, and, with moderate expenditure, are prepared, on 30 days' notice, to cast and handle ingots weighing 150 tons each.

"As the benefits to us would be considerable in having this extensive plant established in Chicago, we will agree to supply the steel ingots at $22.50 per ton (payments to be in gold on 20th of month following deliveries) on the gross weight of the ingots, we allowing credit of $5 per ton for the steel scrap.

"The extra cost of treatment in the open hearth plant could be satisfactorily arranged between an official of the navy department and ourselves. Our plant would be at the service of the navy department, and we would render all the assistance in our power, giving the free use of our laboratories, etc., in experimenting with other alloys, recognizing that the art of armor plate making is progressive."

President Schwab of the Carnegie company writes that they are unable to bid, as "with all our facilities and experience we cannot supply the government with armor of the quality we are now making at that price ($200)." Referring to the testimony given by the company before congressional committees, Mr. Schwab says: "We trust you will be able to satisfy congress of the importance of such legislation as will enable you to negotiate with armor manufacturers to secure at a fair price the quality of armor the government should have. If you were in position now to negotiate with us, and we could not agree upon price, we would be perfectly willing to have the price fixed by arbitration—the arbitrators to be men skilled in the art."

Vice President and General Manager Sayre sets out the position of the Bethlehem Iron company in a long letter. He says the company cannot bid within the price ($200) per ton fixed by congress.

Mr. Sayre says that while the company cannot supply the small quantity of armor required at prices materially lower than those now paid, it still stands ready to sell its plant to the government below cost, at a fair price, to be fixed by suitable arbitration. If, however, congress will remove the limitation on price, he believes he can agree with the department upon a fair price, not greater than that paid for similar armor by any other country in the world.

DEFIANT DR. SWALLOW.

He Evades Questions About His Charges by Being the Aggressor.

HARRISBURG, April 9.—The Rev. Dr. Swallow was called before the joint house and senate committee and given a chance to prove his accusation that the burning of the capitol was the result of carelessness. The doctor was defiant and assumed the role of aggressor instead of defendant. He served notice on the members that he would not permit Sergeant-at-Arms Eyre or any other persons connected with the committee to visit his store and annoy his clerks with questions about himself when he was absent. The doctor said Eyre was a liar and bulldozer and the sergeant-at-arms replied that the clergyman was a prevaricator.

Dr. Swallow produced Charles Stock, a Harrisburg fireman, who testified that he entered the basement of the capitol during the fire because of seeing flames there, and that the big blaze was overhead, a considerable distance away. Here he found an independent fire in an apartment which he regarded as a storage room, but which he had been told was used by the pastors and folders. There was fire on the floor under a table. The ceiling and walls were intact, and the flames, according to the witness, could not have been communicated from the outside.

The doctor declined to furnish the committee the names of his informants because, as he put it, he has said experience in this matter. He claimed three witnesses, all of them women, have been tampered with. "I had another witness," he said, "who had been prepared to swear that he had been offered a bribe of $500 to withdraw a bid. He has since been given a contract and is no longer of any use to me."

The doctor called an official from the weather bureau to prove that the wind on the day of the burning of the capitol was blowing at the rate of 25 miles an hour in an opposite direction from that in which the blaze spread. This testimony was disputed by several members of the committee, and the witness admitted that he might be mistaken.

The committee will meet again next Tuesday, when Dr. Swallow is expected to produce all his witnesses.

Judge Simonton has ordered the motion for a new trial for Dr. Swallow, convicted on the charge of libeling Captain J. C. Delaney, to be put on the argument list.

WHAT TURKEY WANTS.

Contents of Three Notes Delivered to the European Powers.

LONDON, April 9.—A dispatch to The Times from Constantinople says that the porte has communicated to the ambassadors the contents of three circulars dispatched to the Ottoman representatives abroad.

The first, dated April 5, notifies the powers that the porte is willing to withdraw the Turkish garrison from Crete immediately if the Greeks previously withdraw and the powers guarantee to pacify the island. It demands also that Greece should evacuate Crete forthwith.

The second is dated April 6 and protests, in anticipation, against the appointment by the powers of a European governor of the island. The third, dated April 7, protests against the injustice of disarming the Cretan Mohammedans while the Christians are permitted to retain their arms.

ATHENS, April 9.—There is an evident disinclination on the part of some of the powers to carry out any program of coercion and a weakening of purpose in the European federation, which is showing signs of decrepitude. The similarity of language between the declaration and the recent warning of The Journal Des Petersburg has been noticed here, and this latest step of the powers is attributed to the Russian inactivity.

Count Muravieff, the Russian foreign minister, has already become the bete noire of the Greeks. His uniformly hostile attitude has produced great indignation. Well informed persons here believe that Count Muravieff, who inherits the traditions of an autocratic family, is resolved to play a material role in European politics and to leave an impression upon the history of his time.

W. J. BRYAN INJURED.

Made Unconscious by Fall of a Platform in Florida—Others Injured.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., April 9.—Hon. W. J. Bryan has been injured here by the caving in of the Piazza from which he was speaking. Nearly 400 men and women were precipitated about 20 feet to the ground and many of them injured, but none fatally. Mr. Bryan was picked up unconscious and removed to a physician's office, where an examination revealed that he had received no injuries of a serious character. It was deemed best, however, to abandon the reception which was to have been given him.

Mr. Bryan on arriving here was greeted at the station by several hundred people. He addressed fully 3,000 persons from the piazza of the San Marco hotel. At the close of his speech hundreds of people flocked about him and so great was the strain that one section of the piazza 40 feet square fell through.

FLOOD SITUATION UNCHANGED.

A Heavy Rain Accompanied by Wind Reported—Distributing Relief.

MEMPHIS, April 9.—Telegrams received from the flooded areas of the Mississippi delta report the situation unchanged. A heavy rain, accompanied by a strong northwest wind, has prevailed. Information from the Flower lake crevasse says that the break is 1,700 feet wide.

Relief is being distributed to the sufferers.

At Helena the river has fallen 2 feet 11 inches since the levee gave way on Sunday. The backwater in the southern part of the city is at a stand. Many flood refugees are being taken to Helena, and the number in that city will now probably reach 3,000. The relief committee is doing good work and no complaints have been made. The river is falling at all points between Cairo and Helena.

THE MANIAC IN THE CAR.

A Drama With a Satisfactory Ending For All but the Nervous Woman.

It was perfectly obvious that the man in the corner was crazy. At least it was perfectly obvious to the nervous looking woman who sat just opposite him in the cable car. It was not so much the mystical series of wigwag signals which he was making with his handkerchief as the amazing contortions of his face. In the intervals of these contortions he stared intently in the direction of his nervous vis-a-vis, but at nothing in the world, so vague was his look. Then he would tap the bridge of his nose with his finger, grimace and screw up his features into horrible expressions of malignant madness.

The poor woman didn't know what to do. Her alarm was so apparent that all the others in the car noticed it, even the man himself in one of his lucid intervals, and thereafter his performances became more violent than ever. Every physician knows that maniacs delight in playing upon the terrors of those who exhibit fear of them. Perhaps the woman herself knew it. At any rate her feelings finally reached an intensity such that when the man half rose from his seat she shrank into her corner with a stifled squeak, which brought from him a glance of triumph, or perhaps it was surprise. But he only sank back again, with an expression of disappointment, as if his time had not yet come, which indeed it hadn't. Thereafter she held herself gathered close, with every muscle strained, ready to spring and flee. She didn't have long to wait.

The man looked toward her with that terrible, unseeing glare. His fists clinched. The handkerchief clinched in one of them jerked in short, sharp oscillations. His eyes began to bulge out. His face became purple. Beneath his curling lips could be seen his teeth, bare to the gums. He leaned forward toward the horror struck woman, his face protruding almost into hers. His sharp, hot breath was on her cheek, and just as his arms went up to clutch she made one bound from her seat that took her half way down the car.

Two more leaps landed her on the platform. Thence, with a mad yell, she launched herself forth, despite the restraining grasp of the alarmed conductor, and was fortunately caught by a policeman, who escorted her to the sidewalk, where she wept. From behind she heard a mad, gasping roar of baffled rage, but the maniac did not follow.

He didn't want to. He sank back in his seat again and wiped his tearful eyes. Then he took out a newspaper and began to read. It had been a hard struggle, but it had ended in victory. He had got that sneeze out.—New York Sun.

IN A LONDON THEATER.

A First Night as Seen by the Artist C. D. Gibson.

A London audience is brilliant. Every one is in evening dress, and the audience is often more entertaining than the play. This is especially true on a first night. At such times the pit is watched most anxiously by the management, as the success of the piece generally depends on its verdict. It has often occurred to me, when I have seen people on a stormy night forming a line on the pavement outside the pit entrance, taking it all seriously enough to stand there for hours before the doors were opened, that by letting them inside, the management might improve their spirits and they in their turn might be more genteel.

And it has also occurred to me when I have seen a stout man standing in the aisle fumbling for a sixpence or a shilling in pockets that probably only contain a bank note and a goldpiece that the management might further improve the spirits of its audience by doing away with women ushers, and by selling the programme at the same time it sells the seat, for it is hardly fair to the first act of a play to make it overcome the fretfulness caused by annoying attendants before it can hope to amuse.

But the second act is sure to have a fair start, and if the play is good from there on it will have no reason to complain of the audience.—C. D. Gibson in Scribner's.

Killed the Devil.

A burglar recently met with his deserts in a dramatic manner. In the neighborhood of a place called Huntsburg, near Oldenburg, two little boys, aged respectively 8 and 12, were left by their mother at home to take care of the house. A man with blackened face and in black attire suddenly entered and announced himself to the scared little mites as his satanic majesty. "I am the devil. Where do you keep your money?" They instantly pointed toward the massive trunk where the modest wealth of the parents was treasured up. While, however, the murky looking impostor was ransacking the chest, the younger of the two boys whispered to his brother, "Go and fetch the gun and shoot the devil dead."

The brother jumped at the idea, fetched the loaded weapon, crept up to the unsuspecting thief and lodged the whole charge in his back. He fell back dead.—London Telegraph.

DISEASES OF TRADES.

RESULTS OF CONTINUED OCCUPATION OF MEN WHO WORK.

It Appears That Each Kind of Employment Has Its Peculiar Ailment—Both Physical and Mental Workers Fall Under the Rule—Politicians Die Early.

It is well known that there are a number of dangerous trades which give rise to serious diseases; but, as a matter of fact, almost every occupation has some ailment peculiar to itself. A doctor can always tell if his patient is a baker, for instance, by the state of his teeth. The flour dust collects on the teeth, becomes acid and gives rise to a special kind of decay. Bakers, owing to their irregular life, sleeping in the day and working at night, and because of the hot air and dust, are great victims to consumption. Blacksmiths, strong as they are, very often suffer from paralysis of the whole right side from the continuous shock of hammering, and their eyes become weak from the glare of the fire. Athletes, strange to say, do not, as a rule, enjoy long life. Professional boxers, wrestlers, gymnasts, cyclists, are short lived and suffer from enlargement of the heart and diseases of the lungs. Boilermakers get deaf from the continual loud noise. Brewers and brewers drivers drink beer in such large quantities that they ruin their livers and generally die young. Bricklayers and plasterers are very healthy, and they are said to resemble asses in never dying. Butchers are very strong and healthy, but they suffer in health through eating little pieces of raw meat. Cabmen are noted for "nipping," and they endure the natural consequences. The cold also affects their faces to such a degree that the muscles of the face become frequently paralyzed.

Carpenters and cabinet makers are afflicted with varicose veins in the legs, and the action of the shoulder in sawing and planing produces a diseased condition of the large artery that runs from the heart to the arm, so that there is not a carpenter living, a doctor says, in whom a curious noise may not be heard by applying the ear to that blood vessel. Hardly a single china scouter lives to old age without becoming asthmatic. Clergymen's sore throat is of course well known. It is said by some to result from having the mouth open so frequently, the air going in that way and drying the throat. Others say it is caused by the clerical collar. And others still say it results from the fact that the clergyman preaches from a pulpit and has to bend his head downward—for barristers, who talk quite as much, do not suffer as much as clerics, men, being on the same level as their hearers.

Miners, from working in the dark, become very irritable. Their eyes get weak, and their lungs become quite black—miners' lung. Cooks, particularly male cooks working in hotels, clubs and restaurants, get gout from continually tasting rich food, and both male and female cooks get varicose veins and flat feet from long standing as well as the well known ache of the face from the heat and dirt. Coopers have a lump on the knee, which is really a little bag of fluid put there by nature to protect the knee from the injurious effects of pressing it against the barrel. Divers' hearts become distended from holding their breath.

Domestic servants are remarkable for suffering from typhoid fever. Housemaids are frequently afflicted with poverty of blood from drinking tea and running up stairs. Dressmakers' long hours and confinement result in consumption very often, but more often in indigestion, poverty of blood and impaired eyesight. The fumes of nitric acid make goldsmiths' eyes sore, and they get cramps in their fingers from catching small screws. Nearly all the human beings who suffer from that awful disease, glanders, are grooms.

India rubber workers have very bad headaches and great mental depression. Painters are poisoned by the lead they use so much, and all their muscles, but especially their wrist muscles, become very weak. Photographers get poisoned by cyanide of potassium. The dust that enters the lungs of potters when they are sifting clay interferes so much with their breathing that "potter's asthma" is a well known disease. Compositors get cracks and fissures in the lips and small tumors in their mouths from the habit of putting type in the mouth, and consumption attacks them frequently because of the stooping posture and the confined, sedentary life. Politicians are greatest sufferers of all, the constant dram drinking giving them indigestion, jaundice and nervous diseases, killing them at an earlier age than members of any other profession. Sailors, very singularly, suffer greatly from consumption, owing to the cold and damp and the bad air of the forecabin. Salesmen and saleswomen in shops do a lot of standing, which gives them varicose veins and pains in the feet. Cloth scorers, who inhale benzine and turpentine, suffer from headache, lassitude and nervousness. Shoemakers get their chest pressed in by the last, lose their appetite and strength and have headaches. Stonecutters' eyes are often injured by the flying stone.

Tea tasters, although they only take the tea into the mouth and do not swallow it, become so nervous that they can follow their employment for only a period of eight to ten years. The sedentary life of lawyers, artists, students and literary men gives rise to gout, which is said to kill more wise men than fools; dyspepsia, which made Carlyle's life such a torture, and apoplexy, which carries off hosts of great men.—Pall Mall Gazette.

ODD CHARACTERS.

Some of the People Who Seek Fame Through Uncommon Channels.

"I think if all the cranks in this country were corralled," remarked the clerk in the treasury department, "and put under a shed somewhere it would require one bigger than all the buildings at the World's fair."

"Would there really be anybody to do the corraling?" inquired a pessimistic old party, who thinks there is none good—no, not one.

"As I was saying," continued the treasury clerk, "it would take the biggest shed on earth, and still there is a new kind. This time it is a man or woman who has been sending in 10 cents at a time as a contribution to the conscience fund, with a name signed in full, and there is no such name on the treasury books and never has been. I suppose it is merely some crank who thinks he or she will get that name in the papers and have that much fame out of it."

"That's silly enough," chipped in a postoffice inspector, "but I heard of the oddest chap on my last trip down south. You may not know, or, if you do, don't pay much attention to the fact, that there is a fine of $10 for sending written matter through the mails under any rate except 2 cents an ounce. Very likely you have sent enough stuff written on papers, books and so on to bankrupt you if you had the fines to pay, but Uncle Sam is easy, and I don't know of a case where anybody ever had to pay the fine. In this instance a man came into a certain office down south and gave the postmaster $500, being the amount of fines he owed the government for violation of postage laws as far as he could recall them. He was a young man, and he stated that he had violated the law while in love with a girl to whom he sent papers and books occasionally, and, though he wrote to her every day, he couldn't let the others go without writing something on them. The postmaster didn't know how to act in the premises, and just what he would have done finally nobody knows, but the next day the young man's father came to the postmaster and told him that his son had been jailed by his sweetheart, and it had crazed him. This was an explanation which satisfied the official, and the money was returned."

"Ugh!" grunted the pessimistic old party, in no wise affected by the pathos of the little story. "Only a crazy person or an idiot would ever think of settling square with Uncle Sam for a little bunko game like that."—Washington Star.

MARCH HAS ITS VIOLETS.

And There Is a Bright and Cheerful Side to Everything.

Edward W. Bok, under the title of "The Odor of Spring Violets," writes most forcibly in The Ladies' Home Journal on the theme that there is a bright side to everything—even to March, the most disagreeable month of the year, for it has its spring violets. "It is true," he writes, "that it is difficult sometimes to see the bright side of sorrow, sickness and death. And yet there is distinctly a bright side. No sorrow comes to us without a reason. We never know our friends until sorrow or illness comes to us. We never know what loving kindness and thoughtfulness mean until we stand in need of them, and our hearts seem to beat against the walls of a cold, merciless world. We learn something from every grief and from each pain which comes to us. We learn to distinguish between friends, and what more priceless possession is there in the whole range of knowledge than this? What develops us more than trouble? Virtues of heart, which we never dreamed of as existing within us, reveal themselves when we are sorely tried. That is why sorrow and trials are given us—not to give pain, but to develop us, to better equip us for something unknown which lies in the future, and which we could not meet or understand unless we had first gone through certain experiences.

"We are far too apt to regard actual blessings as calamities, to look upon the dark side of things. Some sorrow comes to us, and we rebel. It never occurs to us that perhaps we need the experience which sorrow alone can give. Illness comes, and we fret. But we can't always be well. Ailments are very often given to us to make our appreciation of good health the keener. God has an aim, a direct purpose, in everything he does. His blessings come in different forms. Nor are these forms always such as we would choose. Lessons can be more effectively taught in innumerable cases through sorrow than through pleasure. We should never know what a pure, beautiful color white is if we did not have black to bring out the contrast. We want only pleasure in our lives. When sorrow comes, we rebel and refuse to recognize it for what it so often is—a blessing in disguise. We cannot always have it June. There must be March. Yet March has its spring violets."

HOBBS

Challenge to the Citizens of East Liverpool, Which Appeared in this Paper Yesterday, Creates

A TREMENDOUS SENSATION

The Public Seem Thoroughly Aroused

A General Eagerness to Know What the Outcome of This Affair will be is Plainly Noticeable Amongst Many of Our Readers.

JULIUS HOBBS, M. D.,

As a result of the announcement made by this paper yesterday, that a free package of Dr. Hobbs' Sparagus Kidney Pills would be given away to any of our readers who would call at Alvin H. Bulger's, Pharmacist, corner Sixth and West Market streets, tomorrow, an intense interest has been awakened in this distribution.

A large number of people called last evening and this morning to make inquiries about the free samples of this wonderful medicine to be given away tomorrow, which shows what general interest is taken by the public in the test now being given by Dr. Hobbs of his discovery for the cure of all kidney ailments.

Much to our gratification, a number of lady callers have shown an unusual interest in this great distribution.

"Can it be possible," said a man who called yesterday, "that the advancement in the science of medicine has at last reached a climax for poor sufferers like myself?"

"I am going to say one thing at any rate. The owners of this medicine certainly have faith in it, and they are going about it in an honest, straightforward manner. Just this thing alone gives me confidence and strong hope that I shall again be a well man."

Another caller yesterday—a lady—said: "I live several miles away from East Liverpool, but I am going to get a sample of this kidney medicine for my husband. He has been a sufferer from kidney diseases for many years."

"We have spent thousands of dollars with the best doctors we could hear of, North and South, but at the best he has received only temporary relief."

"Dr. Hobbs' announcement that he has made a discovery which will cure and build up the kidneys, and his offer to prove it by the giving away of a free package, is quite a novelty to me, as heretofore it has been 'pay' whether the medicine did any good or not."

"We are going to give this remedy a good, fair trial, and I hope that others, suffering as my husband is, will hear of it and accept the kind and generous offer which Dr. Hobbs makes."

It is expected that tomorrow there will be a great rush of applicants for a free package of Dr. Hobbs' Sparagus Kidney Pills. But no matter what the demand is Alvin H. Bulger is well prepared to meet it.

"All those living in East Liverpool or any town outside who apply at our store tomorrow in person, or write for a sample, will be welcome, and not only a

of this wonderful medicine will be given or sent to each applicant, but also Dr. Hobbs' little book, which is in a concise way, treats on kidney troubles.

This great free distribution ends tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock, so that all who wish to avail themselves of Dr. Hobbs' generous offer should call tomorrow, or write, or they will miss the opportunity.

Needles.

Needles are all made by machinery. The piece of mechanism by which the needle is manufactured takes the rough steel wire, cuts it into proper lengths, files the point, flattens the head, pierces the eye, then sharpens the tiny instrument and gives it that polish familiar to the purchaser. There is also a machine by which needles are counted and placed in the papers in which they are sold, these being afterward folded by the same contrivance.

A Lover's Apology.

An illiterate young man once got a friend to write a letter for him to his sweetheart. The letter was rather prosaic for a love letter, and he felt that an apology was due to his sweetheart for its lack of tender nothings. It was as follows:

"Please excuse the mildness of this here letter, as the chap wot's writin it is a married man, and he says he can't bide any soft soap—it allus gives him the spazzums."—Pick Me Up.

The Proof.

She—Are you sure that it was a year ago today that we became engaged, dear?

He—Yes. I looked it up in my check-book this morning.—Pearson's Weekly.

A MONETARY COMMISSION.

Commercial Organizations Urged to Position Congress For One.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 9.—The executive committee of the Indianapolis monetary reform convention has asked further aid of the commercial organizations of the country. Blank copies of a petition are being sent out from this city to the secretaries of boards of trade and other commercial organizations and also to all who attended the convention as delegates. The petition is addressed to the senators and representatives and urges the necessity of reform in the national currency and banking legislation. A letter accompanying this petition is signed by H. H.
Hanna, chairman. This letter says:
"The members of the senate and house of representatives need proof of public demand for legislation upon the lines the Indianapolis monetary convention instructed the executive committee to urge. To secure to the president, at this extra session, authority to appoint a commission, a hard, quick push must be put into the work."

REPUTATED BY GARLAND.

The Amalgamated Refuses to Sanction
Illinois Steel Company Strike.

CHICAGO, April 9.—The Illinois Steel company is as fast as possible filling the places of the 90 railstraighteners,
who walked out of the steel mill, resulting in the throwing out of employment of 2,000 men. It is probable there will not be any outbreak by the men before Monday, if then. The company's officers say they will start the rail and steel mills then if they have to bring in workmen from the east to fill the places of the strikers.

In that event trouble is threatened.
General Manager W. R. Walker says
there is no reason for the strike and he has the assurance of President M. M.
Garland of the Amalgamated association that the striking laborers are not receiving the support of that organization.

CRITICIZED SPAIN'S METHODS.

Senator Morgan Continued His Speech
on Cuba in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The senate
heard Mr. Morgan (Ala.) for the third successive day on his resolution declaring that a state of war exists in Cuba.
He was severely critical of Spain's methods against American prisoners,
and went over in detail the circumstances in the Competitor case.

Mr. Morgan said he would close his speech at the next meeting of the senate, when he would present a letter from one of the Cuban officials of the eastern province of the island showing the complete civil system of government now maintained by the Cubans.

Opposed the Torrey Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Mr. Nelson (Minn.) spoke for two hours on the bankruptcy bill in the senate, opposing the pending Torrey bill as excessively harsh and designed as a collection agency for large creditors, and urging his substitute as a measure drafted in the interest of thousands of poor debtors
struggling to get on their feet.

A RIDE IN THE PATROL FOLLOWED

One Man Given a Lesson For the Manner In Which He Abused His Family—Wife and Children Sent Out In the Rain. Mayor Gilbert's Cases.

The city jail last evening contained three occupants. They were Fred Wolf, Edwin Cox and Lyman Lamber. The first named is serving out a fine, and the other two are newcomers.

About 7:30, last evening, Officer Earl was in the Birt building, and he found Edwin Cox fast asleep in the hallway. Good natured officer, as he is, he took compassion on Edwin and thought it would be too bad if Edwin slept there all night, so better quarters were secured. The wagon was called, and Edwin, who could hardly navigate, was carted away to the elegant sleeping quarters which the city provides for such people. His ride and lodging for the night cost the gentlemen $6.60.

The other unfortunate was in the person of Lyman Lamber, an employee of Cartwright's pottery. Lyman has been feeling the effects of booze since last Saturday, and consequently has been having a large time. Friends took him from the yard of a Diamond store yesterday morning to his home at Second and Jackson streets. Last evening, while the rain was coming down in torrents, Lamber put his wife and children out in the street, locked up the house, all but one window, and was monarch of all he surveyed. This was against the will of Mrs. Lamber and the efficient police were called upon after she had put the children in a neighbor's house. When the officers arrived they were puzzled as to how they should get in, but Officer Terrence, equal to the occasion, discovered the open window. As a matter of fact he refused to accept company to city hall. Kind words prevailed though, and when he landed there he demanded an immediate hearing. There are no rules posted up to this effect, so he, with others, slept under the city's wing. At the hearing this afternoon he was fined $9.60 for his fun.

The button and the tin can are playing havoc with the dogs these days. A number of canines, more or less valuable, have met violent deaths recently, while almost any day some poor, harmless dog can be seen tearing through street or alley wearing on his tail a can of no inconsiderable size.

Mrs. W. J. Doughady is confined to her home threatened with typhoid fever. G. F. Watkins has moved his family to Ravenna.

B. McKenna has moved to the Davidson property in Nicholson addition.

Mrs. Albert Leath, who has been very ill for a long time, is slowly improving.

Many readers of the NEWS REVIEW will learn with deepest regret that Mrs. A. G. McKenzie is dead. She was a member of the United Presbyterian church, an honest, conscientious Christian. Mrs. McKenzie was elected to the board of education several years ago, and always showed a great deal of interest in business connected with the schools. In respect for the deceased, school was dismissed. Funeral services were conducted at the late home this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Miss Maude Suediker is visiting in Pittsburgh.

H. G. Conn has occupied the new building. The one he is leaving will be remodeled.

D. Mannist, who was again deprived of his vote in the Fourth ward, has taken advice, and it is probable the case will have another hearing in court. The board moved cautiously, and one member is quoted as saying that they have the best of authority to support their position. One member of the board last fall was not connected with the election on Tuesday, and it is said his smile was of the broadest when he learned that again had they refused to accept Mr. Mannist's ballot.

A great deal of freight is being handled by the railroad, and some days the yards are full of loaded cars.

FIRST FALL FOR DOCTOR

The Shay-Deviney Case Was Postponed.

IT GOES OVER TO NEXT TERM

The Defense Made a Fight For Postponement and Won—It May Be Months Before the Matter Comes Up For Hearing In Cleveland.

The announcement is made today that the suit of Miss Deviney against Doctor Shay will not be heard in the court of Judge Sage, in Cleveland, during the present term of court, but it will go over to the next term.

The suit was instituted last summer, and the defense has made a determined effort to have the trial postponed. One date was set, but when the day for trial came Doctor Shay had so long been confined to his room by a serious illness that it was impossible for him to leave the house. Another date was set, and when it was announced that the time was April 10, attorneys, Grosshans & Grosshans, of this city, and W. C. Anderson, of Youngstown, put forward their best efforts for postponement. They were anxious that the case should not come to trial until next fall, and a telegram received from Cleveland early this morning, shows how well they succeeded. The case will be readily remembered as that in which Miss Deviney, a former resident of Salineville, but now living in Pittsburgh, asked damages from Doctor Shay in the sum of $10,000.

The remainder of the cast is so good that there is no doubt the Grand will be an attractive place next week.

The Defense Made a Fight For Postponement and Won—It May Be Months Before the Matter Comes Up For Hearing In Cleveland.

The announcement is made today that the suit of Miss Deviney against Doctor Shay will not be heard in the court of Judge Sage, in Cleveland, during the present term of court, but it will go over to the next term.

The suit was instituted last summer, and the defense has made a determined effort to have the trial postponed. One date was set, but when the day for trial came Doctor Shay had so long been confined to his room by a serious illness that it was impossible for him to leave the house. Another date was set, and when it was announced that the time was April 10, attorneys, Grosshans & Grosshans, of this city, and W. C. Anderson, of Youngstown, put forward their best efforts for postponement. They were anxious that the case should not come to trial until next fall, and a telegram received from Cleveland early this morning, shows how well they succeeded. The case will be readily remembered as that in which Miss Deviney, a former resident of Salineville, but now living in Pittsburgh, asked damages from Doctor Shay in the sum of $10,000.

The shows have been in East Liverpool before, and the people knowing a good thing when they see it, will patronize the Wallaces as they always have done.
